

Are you studying or working in one of these fields?

Be A STEM Mentor!

Contact the STEM Mentor Project (funded by the National Science Foundation and located at the Regional Research Institute at Portland State University).

- The National Science Foundation is committed to increasing the STEM careers pipeline for diverse youth, including those with disabilities.
- The purpose of the STEM Mentor Project is to determine the impact of STEM mentors, with and without disabilities, on the STEM knowledge, interest, and self-efficacy of youth with disabilities.
- Mentors will meet with a high school freshman or sophomore student 2 times a month for 6 months (March – August 2009).
- Training will be provided and you will receive $250 as a thank-you for your time.

Questions?

Contact John Ossowski (503-725-9637) or e-mail John at ido@pdx.edu.

This material is based upon work supported by the National Science Foundation under Grant No. (HRD-0834195). Any opinions, findings, and conclusions or recommendations expressed in this material are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily reflect the views of the National Science Foundation.